

Green Woods Charter School Earth Day 2008

"It's ~~not~~ easy being green"

Green Woods Charter School is a unique K-8 school situated on 340 acres of woods within the Schuylkill Center for Environmental Education in NW Philadelphia.

Our award-winning school and curriculum uses the local and global environment as a focus for learning. Each year on Earth Day our students, faculty, parents and community members work side-by-side with our Schuylkill Center partners and give one-full day of service to the environment. This year's slogan "It's ~~not~~ easy being green" created by our 8th grade students, proves how easy it is to be a good steward of our environment. How? Our students, staff, partners, and families will be:

Who, What, When, Where?

Who: Green Woods Charter School
(Located in The Schuylkill Center for Environmental Education)

What: Restoring Wildlife Habitat

When: TUESDAY, April 22, 2008
8:45AM—3:00PM

Where: 8480 Hagy's Mill Road
Philadelphia, PA 19128
(215) 482-6337

Removing invasive plants
Conditioning the soil
Raking the trails and removing weeds
Planting new native plants
Applying woodchip mulch

Contact: Jean Wallace,
Academic Director/CEO
(215) 482-6337

Thank you to Wild Birds Unlimited in Dresher, PA for the donation of bird feeders and supplies for our bird habitat!!